

Making laws after peaceful protest

There were far more
Plebeians than Patricians
in Ancient Rome.

But only the Patricians could make the laws.

The Plebeians wanted

- a say in making laws
- to know what all the laws were.

So they said

The Patricians needed the Plebians so they were forced to give:

Tribunes

Plebeian men who could stop a law being made and protect any Plebeian in a law court

The Twelve Tables

The laws of Rome written down for everyone to see

Finally ... Plebeians were allowed to:

- make up laws in the Assembly
- have the powerful jobs (be Magistrates and Consuls)
- be Senators.
